STETSON WEEKLY COLLEGIATE

OFFICIAL STUDENTS' PUBLICATION OF STETSON UNIVERSITY.

VOL. XVII.

DE LAND, FLA., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1904.

NO. 1.

First Days of School.

John B. Stetson University opened for the year of 1904-'05 on Wednesday morning, September 28, with chapel exercises, and the customary hour found the large auditorium well filled with students and friends of the institution. As Dr. Lincoln Hulley, the new president, ascended the platform, he was given enthusiastic cheers by the students, and the cordial spirit with which he was welcomed was everywhere felt. The first hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy!" was then sung, after which Rev. J. E. Oates read the scripture lesson and Chaplain Stewart led in prayer.

Dr. Hulley then made a brief address, taking as his topic "Education." He treated his subject forcibly and concisely and the talk made a distinct impression. He also took the opportunity of warmly thanking the students for the cordial welcome extended him.

PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION.

The president's reception, always an important feature in the annual opening of the University, was held in Chandon Hall on the evening of Friday, September 30, and the new students and teachers made the acquaintance of the president and each other under the most pleasant and auspicious circumstances. A large and representative gathering attended, and were received by Dr. and Mrs. Hulley, Dr. and Mrs. Farriss, and Miss Stubbs. Professor Carson introduced the guests.

Late in the evening refreshments were served in the dining room, and the guests dispersed after a most congenial evening.

The occasion was especially pleasant in that it showed the harmonious relations which may be expected to prevail during the coming year, both in the University and between it and the people of DeLand.

FIRST VESPER SERVICES.

The first vesper services of the year were held in the auditorium Sunday, Oct. 2, at the usual hour, and were led by Dr. Hulley, in person. Dr. Hulley chose as his text that passage from the Epistle to the Philippians, fourth chapter, eighth verse, in which the ideal Christian life is outlined, and he spoke for some time forcibly and to the point. The talk was much enjoyed and made a deep impression upon the hearers.

The usual program of music was rendered, including an organ voluntary by Prof. Morse.

Use of Library.

The Library is not used by the students, as a whole, nearly as much as it should be. You're losing a great deal by not spending some time in the library every day. The southwest alcove is reserved for daily and weekly newspapers, and those wishing the news of the times can get it there. Books may be drawn for two weeks and, if renewed for another two weeks. If not renewed, a fee of two cents a day will be charged until returned.

Many of the day students spend their study periods in the library, and hence absolute quiet must be kept. Don't come into the room endeavoring to see how heavily you can walk or how loud you can whisper. Miss Palmer or her assistant will be glad to hunt up references, etc., for you. The library is for your use. Why not use it?

J. H. Brumsey, a Stetson law student, has his card in this issue.

OUR PRESIDENT.

The most interesting person about our University, to both old and new students, is always our president.

And when our president is new, the interest is all the deeper.

Biography is always fascinating. The history of the world is the biography of a few men. The history of Stetson from 1904 will be a biography of its president. And the past biography of our president is interwoven with the history of many other schools and written large in many religious and social activities of college life.

In the Chester, Pennsylvania, grammar school, Lincoln Hulley graduated with highest honors. Keystone Acad-nell in '85, he specialized in philosophy in Harvard University, taking his A.B. in 1889. His alma mater called him then to the chair of science, which he filled for three years, and from there he studied for the Ph.D. at the University of Chicago, which he gained in 1895, in the Hebrew, Arabic, Syriac, Aramaic, Assyrian and Ethiopic languages.

The summers of '97-'99 were spent by Dr. and Mrs. Hulley in Europe, where he studied history.

From the beginning of his scholastic training, his work has lain along educational lines. As vice-principal in the Muncy Normal School, Pennsylvania, as professor in Bucknell, as State Lecturer in the Teachers' Instinizing its supreme place in the world, irrespective of creed.

Dr. Hulley comes to us straight from Bucknell, where he has held the chair of history since 1893.

Mrs. Hulley is of New York descent and won her A.B. degree from Michigan and her A.M. from Chicago.

There are four children in the president's family—Harriet, Louise, Ben and Mary.

If it were not that modesty forbids our boasting of our own possessions, we would speak at length; but our president is already beloved, and we need no words, but loyal fidelity to the college, to prove that we appreciate his presence here.

Athletic Mass Meeting.

College spirit has at no time been more in evidence than on Monday, Oct. 3, at 1 p. m., when a large majority of the students met in the auditorium in response to a notice read at chapel that morning. It was generally understood that athletic was the subject for discussion, and such an understanding is the best possible means for drawing a crowd. Dr. Stetson.

Prof. Baldwin took charge of the meeting with a full vigor and energy. After a short speech on the cause of the meeting, namely, the absolute necessity of the student body to back up its athletic teams in every way, he introduced other speakers—among them Dr. Hulley, Prof. Sears and Dr. Farriss—all of whom made short but forceful talks along the same line. Although these talks were varied and by no means monotonous, yet the sum and substance of them all was the one idea, that it is not only the pleasure, but the unavoidable duty of every single Stetson student to do all in his power in bringing victory to the men who so nobly work day after day, denying themselves pleasures, that they may be physically fitted to fight our athletic contests.

It was next mentioned that one of the most important factors in producing and maintaining this physical perfection is a thoroughly good, scientifically managed training table for the football men.

Then followed the inevitable. Of course such a training table requires a goodly amount of the "root of all evil," and accordingly all loyal Stetson sons—and incidentally, daughters—were requested to produce their pocket-books, whether fat or lean. The enthusiastic way in which this request was responded to is entirely without precedent. Dr. Hulley set the ball rolling with a fine big fiver (i. e., the promise of one), and then subscriptions followed thick and fast, some for $5.00, others for less, but no doubt according to each donor's ability.

When no one else seemed inclined to subscribe, a motion was made that each student should levy a tax of $2.00 on himself. This was carried, with only one contrary vote.

Then, after some rousing cheers, the mass meeting adjourned.

Following is a list of the subscriptions and taxes paid up to Oct. 12:

DR. LINCOLN HULLEY.

emy claimed him next, and he again gained first rank. By the time he entered Bucknell University, still loyal to his native State, his mind had been so well trained that he was able, in his four years, to take nine scholarship prizes in Greek, Latin, mathematics, oratory, economics, English and psychology.

But the college boy had no idea of being merely an intellectual man, and the musical, literary and religious organizations claimed his time as well and his name stands high on the roll of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

He was on the football, baseball and basketball teams.

After graduating with the highest standing as valedictorian from Buck-

nell in '85, he specialized in philosophy in Harvard University, taking his A.B. in 1889. His alma mater called him then to the chair of science, which he filled for three years, and from there he studied for the Ph.D. at the University of Chicago, which he gained in 1895, in the Hebrew, Arabic, Syriac, Aramaic, Assyrian and Ethiopic languages.

The great Chautauqua movement interested Dr. Hulley, and for eleven summers he has had charge of the Biblical work at the centers of New York, Ohio, Tennessee, Pennsylvania, Missouri and Rhode Island.

When the American Institute of Sacred Literature was organized, Dr. Hulley became its staff lecturer for eleven years, and later he contributed to the work of the Religious Education Association, which is directing its energies to the establishment of religion upon a scientific plane and recog-

* The Collegiate enters upon the seventeenth year of its existence with cordial greetings to all its readers and supporters. It was started early in the history of the institution, and has been borne more or less faithfully through all the vicissitudes of our college life. Until last year it was issued in bound form at monthly intervals.

With this issue begins the second year of the "Weekly" Collegiate. Whether last year's attempt was a failure or not, still remains to be seen. We hope not, for as we are concerned, we are at all satisfied with our work last year, and hope to do better with a new start.

One cause of possible failure, we have come to the end of our isolation. The Collegiate and the student body have not been on quite terms hitherto. This year we want to live up to our creed, "Of the students and by the students." We want every student to feel that the Collegiate has a vital interest in all his or her interests, and hope that they will reciprocate the feeling. Let us not have the students feel that their interests are apart from those of their paper. In order to advance this feeling of good fellowship we have decided to do away with the idea that only members of the editorial staff are to be allowed to contribute articles to the paper. Let all feel that they are at liberty to offer anything they deem worthy of publication to the editors. If your contributions can be of service, we will gladly use them. If they cannot be used, they will be treated with utmost respect.

By special permission the old reading room has been fitted up as an editorial office. Some member of the board will be in the office during the day and will gladly attend to any interested student.

Later on we hope to be able to offer some prize, in the form of tickets to Lyceum Course or football games or the like, for the best articles on subjects of interest to the students and public. Let everyone feel interested. It's your paper. It'll be whatever you make of it. Build well, therefore, and help us to give a live, newsy paper, worth the reading.

Let us keep our scrap paper off the lawns. There's not much to be lost by so doing, and a great deal to be gained.

We are pleased to see that there is much less studying during chapel exercises than there has been in the past. The exercises are short and you can well afford to spend that much time for assembly together.

A catalogue of Greek and Latin text books has been received, and among them is a Greek Prose Composition, edited by Prof. R. J. Bonner. It will be remembered that Prof. Bonner was working on this text book while teaching here. The book is regarded as one of special promise and is already used in many colleges. Accept our congratulations.

* We want to make our "exchange" list larger than before, and to do so will be glad if any of the faculty or students will aid us. If you have a college paper coming to you, as an alumnus, or one which you can get, let us add it to our list. We want to keep in touch with other colleges as much as possible. Since the above was written, several have already offered to get exchanges. It's your turn next.

* How to Kill a College Paper.

1. Do not subscribe. Borrow your neighbor's paper. Be a sponge.
2. Look up the advertisements and trade with the other fellow. Be a chump.
3. Never hand in a news item and criticize everything in the paper. Be a coxcomb.
4. If you are a member of the staff, play pool or ten pins when you ought to be attending to your business. Be a shirk.
5. Tell your neighbor that you pay too much for the paper. Be a squeeze. If you can't get a hump on your anatomy and make the paper a success—Be a corpse.—Ex.

Y. M. C. A.

The young men were all delighted last Thursday evening at the weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A., by one of Dr. Hulley's inspiring addresses. Dr. Hulley chose for his subject in discourse the seventh chapter of Matthew.

During the course of his remarks he said, in part: "The membership of the Christian organizations of the college are the president's strong supports. It is what the association stands for and does, to upbuild the university life, that helps.

"The pitfalls about a school are many. We are able to discern them by their appearance. We know also a man by his works and speech. It is best to avoid one who glibly persuades that certain questionable things are all right. In spite of their smooth speech, it is possible to understand them and avoid their ways.

"Not those who say they believe are the true believers. A man's true, heartfelt belief is shown by his works. Those who say, 'Lord, Lord,' are not always the saved, but those who do God's will."

Dr. Hulley's interpretation of the parable of the builders on the rock and sand was beautiful. It is all important how we conduct our lives. Building is the vital question. We cannot afford to make mistakes. We cannot afford to hug a delusion, for it will destroy us and itself.

The boys will look forward with pleasure to the next visit of the president to their meeting.

After the address the meeting was turned over to the business of the society. Several committees were appointed, and Prof. Smith outlined the course of study to be pursued by the prospective Bible class.

This will be an excellent course, and all who have time would do well to take up the work under Prof. Smith. Those wishing to join the class will see Mr. Staley.

All students interested in religious work will be welcomed as members of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Blocker will be glad to take the names of any who wish to become members.

Football.

Everybody seems to be making guesses and prophecies regarding this year's football season, but if enthusiasm and hard work count for anything, this ought to be the best year in the school's history. No one will doubt or dispute the efficiency of the team which fought for the white and green last year, and when it is remembered that most of these same men are back again, adding new practice and experience to that already gained, there should be no cause for discouragement. The members of last year's team who have not returned are J. Pounds, Clow, Cox and King. Of course these men will be missed, for they were all "the best what is," but surely their places can be filled from the material available this year.

Following is the line up of the team which represents us at Friday afternoon:

C.—Staley.
Guards—Mace, Wilder, Lenfesty.
Tackles—Duncan, Botts, F.
Ends—Wright, Broadwell.
Q. B.—Campbell, Underhill.
R. H. B.—McIlvaine, Armstrong.
L. H. B.—Botts, L.
F. B.—Pounds, F.
Sub. L. H. B.—Hendricks.

The first game of the series for this season will be played in Jacksonville Friday afternoon, Oct. 12, when our boys will meet the J. L. I's. Disquieting reports of the immense weight of the J. L. I. team are in circulation, but nothing yet has proved too big for a Stetson team to tackle, under fair circumstances.

One of the newcomers this season who has an athletic record behind him, is E. T. McIlvaine, from Tampa. McIlvaine for four years played half-back at Gordon Institute, Barnesville, Ga., and captained the team for two years. Last year his team beat, by a score of 5 to 0, a Savannah team, which in turn had beaten the J. L. I's 40 to 0. This is no mean record when it is considered that Mr. McIlvaine is only 18 years of age and weighs only 135, while the other backs of his team averaged 160 pounds.

Will Sheddan, better known as "Bill Sleepy," who had his collar bone broken in the football practice Wednesday, Oct. 5, is out again and doing well. Will has the proper spirit. He is anxious for the break to mend, so he can get busy again and break the other one, if necessary, for the glory of the white and green.

The officials of the football team have had some trouble in obtaining a good training table for the men. However, they say it is improving, and it is hoped that there will be no need of complaint in the future.

The return game with the J. L. I's will be played here next Friday.

Miss Harper is Married.

Miss Davida Harper, daughter of President Harper, of Chicago University, was married, Oct. 6, at 8:30 p. m., in Mandel Hall, to Charles Scribner Eaton. The wedding was decidedly a university occasion. The members of Esoteric attended in a body and the ushers were all Alpha Delta Phi's, fraternity brothers of the groom.

Over two thousand invitations had been issued, and the assembly hall was crowded with guests.

Mrs. Eaton attended Stetson during the winter of '99-'00.

Students' Reception Friday Night.

In the gymnasium, from eight to ten Friday evening, the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. gave a welcoming reception in honor of the new students of Stetson University, to which all the students received a cordial invitation. The gymnasium was trimmed with palmetto leaves and golden rod and made an ideal place for the informal gathering. In spite of the rain many came, and the "gym" was filled with students of all ages and sizes. The Y. W. C. A.'s and the Y. M. C. A.'s wore green badges lettered in white with their society's initials, and did their best to entertain the students and introduce the newcomers. All, with one accord, forgetting their dignity, entered into the spirit of the occasion, and played "wink 'em," "Going to Jerusalem," "Ruth and Jacob," etc., with the abandon of children off for a romp. And, like thirsty children, indeed, they crowded around the table where two charming Stetson girls, later in the evening, served iced lemonade to all who came near.

The climax of the evening came when Dr. Hulley, Dr. Farriss, Mr. Blocker and Miss Primm each spoke a few well chosen words in honor of the occasion. Taken as a whole, the evening was pronounced a great success and was called by everyone the very best kind of a reception.

Kindergarten Notes.

The kindergarten opened October 3rd, with a full table of children. The children have enjoyed the nature work with the autumn flowers and fruits, and this week the work is based on the family life, with its lessons of service and helpfulness. We miss the faces of some of the last year's normal girls. We have heard from most of them since the opening of school.

Miss Walker is at home in Jacksonville.

Miss Blackman is in Moline, Ill. Miss Cowper is now enjoying herself on the Pike, but expects to continue her kindergarten work in the winter.

Everything points to a happy and prosperous year.

DeLand High School.

The DeLand High School opened last Monday, October 3, with an enrollment of 204. Professor Hulvey, of Tennessee, is the new principal, and has as his assistants some of the best and most successful teachers in the State. These are: Prof. A. O. Botts, Misses Merryman, Farnsworth, Eccles, Law, Viola Erhart and Woods. Misses Eccles, Law, Erhart and Merryman are all alumnae of Stetson, so we can vouch for their abilities; and Miss Farnsworth has also studied here. Miss Erhart is one of the most successful primary teachers in the State.

Rollins College Opens.

Rollins College entered on its twentieth year last Wednesday, and its prospects for the coming days are brighter than ever before. The attendance is larger than at any time before, at the beginning of the year. Several new teachers have been added to the faculty.

Prof. Chas. A. McMurray will give special courses in the college, of especial interest and value to teachers. Miss Clara M. Graves is the new teacher in domestic science, and Professor Benedict, director of the Business College.

Rollins says she will do much in athletics this year. We hope to do much also, and will do more.

Literary Mass Meeting.

About eighty of the students attended the mass meeting held in Science Hall, Saturday, October the 1st, under the auspices of the Stetson Literary Society. Dr. Hulley showed his interest in the work by being present, and addressed the students in a characteristically cordial and inspiring way. He distinctly showed the students the benefits to be derived from literary work and urged them to make the most of their opportunities while here.

Prof. Baldwin, who has always taken a live interest in the work of the society, also spoke to the students, showing the benefits to be derived from work in this special society.

Several new members have been added to the roll and it is to be hoped that more will avail themselves of the work in this line. No college graduate can feel fully prepared for work in the world unless he can address an audience with some degree of assurance.

It is deplorable that the young men on the membership list are decidedly in the minority. We suppose it must be because they will have less need for this sort of work.

SATURDAY EVENING.

Stetson Literary Society will hold a short meeting tomorrow evening at 7:30 p. m.

This is the program:
Current Events—Mr. Stevens.
Recitation—Miss Moffatt.
Extempore—Mr. Mitchell.
Parliamentary Practice—Mr. Moffatt.
Reading—Mr. Allen.

Graduates of Stetson.

1904—19 Academy; 1 Music; 6 College; 8 Law; 20 Business.

This record shows the increasing number of graduates from the several departments. Under the Academic head are included those taking diplomas in either Kindergarten or Normal courses, and under Business College are included any taking diplomas in any course there, whether in telegraphy, bookkeeping or any of the courses offered.

Glee Club.

Several young men interested in the organization of a glee club met Professor Morse in DeLand Hall, Monday evening, at 6:15.

Prof. Morse was elected temporary chairman, and W. G. Sparkman temporary secretary. Messrs. Sparkman, Will Mickle and Doyle Carlton were appointed a committee to form plans for perfecting organization, and reported Thursday noon.

The glee club two years ago was a decided success, and there is no reason why this one shouldn't be also.

Committee Meeting.

The library committee, with Dr. Baerecke as chairman, met yesterday afternoon to consider matters of interest to their department—purchase of new books, subscriptions to periodicals, and the like.

Misses Ada Hill and Camilla Shaw will remain at their homes this winter. These young ladies will be greatly missed in Chaudoin.

Miss Alice McKinney is in school in Norwich, Conn. We'll all miss her here this year, especially the fourth year class, individually and collectively.

Miss Eva Powell, of Fernandina, is again a resident of Chaudoin. With her is her attractive young sister Miss Sally Powell, who attended commencement exercises here last year.

Miss Isabel McKinney, a graduate of the Academy class of '06, has a position in Charleston, Ill., at the same college in which Prof. Briggs is teaching. Miss McKinney graduated from Chicago in 1900 and took her A. M. at Columbia last spring.

We hear that the upper class men at Minnesota have decided that lifting, or, rather tipping of hats, is a nuisance and a menace to health. They believe that girls will soon learn to appreciate a mere polite nod as much as a baring of the head. The latter method they declare is dangerous to the health in winter. Seems to us that we've tried to do away with the long-standing custom by not wearing any hats at all for the last year or two.

Jimmy Pounds is in Harvard. He expected to go to Chicago this fall, but changed his plans and went to Harvard. What need we say about Jimmy? He's too well known to have to be extolled. We miss him, though. How can we help feeling the loss of a fellow student of five years' standing? And especially one who was as prominent in all the branches of college life as Jimmy. He is now installed as bookkeeper for the "Harvard Crimson," and has his room in College Hall.

Hop at Chaudoin.

A most recherche dance was given in Chaudoin Hall Saturday evening by the young lady residents. The drawing room had been attractively decorated for the occasion and that, together with the pretty gowns worn, formed a picture long to remain in the eyes of those who were fortunate enough to be present. It was a representative gathering. Some of the South's fairest daughters were there, in all their beauty. The Spaulding-Emery orchestra, just from New York, furnished delightful music—selections from the latest operas, "Sho-Gun," "Babes in Toyland," etc. During the intermission a light collation was served, and the whole affair proved to be a most decided success. Those present were: Misses Powell, Wilder, Hardee, Munsell Coleman, Coulter, Rich, Chatterton, Menge, Sears, Williams, Knepton, Marvick, Rowland, Stevens, Smith, Leitner, Jones, Clark, Snyder, Anderson, Howell, etc., and Messrs. Morrish, Booth, Coburn, Walker, Jackman, Mannville, Primm, Johnson, Hughlett, Menge, Powell, Brumsey, Borland, Shelton, Webster and others.

Vesper Services.

Sunday, the 9th, Dr. Hulley conducted the services. After an anthem by the choir, he spoke for a few minutes, forcibly, however, on our ideals. He urged the necessity of choosing as king and ruler, the good, the pure, the high and noble, and not the mean, low, insignificant and vile. The sins which we harbor are as certain to come forth and devour our high and noble ideals as the fire from the bramble was said to devour the cedars of Lebanon, in the Biblical passage.

Next Sunday the services will be conducted by Dr. Farriss.

Physical Culture.

Miss Morrison meets the young men and the young ladies of the gym every Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock, to give special advice as to physical culture. Especial attention is given to methods of sitting, standing, walking and rising.

Lecture Friday Night.

Dr. Hulley has invited the students and public to a lecture-recital in the Auditorium this evening, at 8:00 p. m. A large number of students will attend this first entertainment of the year, in the chapel.

Miss Elisabeth Remmers has returned to DeLand as Mrs. E. G. Baldwin, and will be among us as of old.

ADDRESS

L. T. HULLEY, President.

Basketball and the Girls.

Athletic enthusiasm has awakened early among the girls this year, for already basketball teams are being organized. The old team names have been retained; so now, as of old, the Chaudoin girls, or the Razzles and Dazzles, and the town girls, or the Nips and Tucks, are eagerly discussing the pros and cons of basketball. As soon as the weather grows a little cooler, the Razzles and Dazzles expect to practice every night at 8:45, while the Nips and Tucks will appropriate the gymnasium every afternoon at three. In the two games which have been played between the Razzles and Dazzles, the Dazzles have won sweeping victories. The first score was 4 to 1 and the second 9 to 2.

The girls who have identified themselves with the Razzles and Dazzles are:

Razzles—Miss Ethel Webster, captain; Miss Eva Powell, Miss Maud Wilder, Miss Sallie Powell, Miss Florence Stevens, Miss Nancy Brumsey, Miss Laura Belle Menge, Miss Eva Hawley.

Dazzles—Miss Ruth Rich, captain, Miss Ruth Jackman, Miss Kathleen Menge, Miss Edna Boreland, Miss Edith Booth, Miss Mamie Hardee, Miss Mamie Marvick, Miss Kate Walker.

The Nips and Tucks so far are:

Nips—Miss Marion Jackson, captain; Miss Martha Lindquist, Miss Erwinna Gauden, Miss Ione Hough, Miss Nellie Kruse.

Tucks—Miss Harriet Fuller, captain; Miss Ammonette Gordon, Miss Jessie Pelton, Miss Gussie Moffatt, Miss Alice Swerdfeger, Miss Lillian Page, Miss Carlton.

Miss Elizabeth E. Winegar, who was a loyal student here for several years, and editor of the Collegiate, is assistant in English in the University of South Dakota. She is with Prof. Broadus and family, whom we all remember.
